Special Crew To Complete City's Census

County Census Boss
Sees Completion
By Next Weekend

Vernon Miller, Riverside County Supervisor for the Bureau of Census, told The Desert Sun today that he was "very happy" over how Palm Springs' enumeration is coming and announced that he was bringing in a special crew next week to "wrap up the annual count."

Palm Springs is the last city or rural area in Riverside County to be counted, and, according to Miller, "after checking the records and throwing out some of the questionnaires, we have decided to bring in the special crew to complete the job."

THE COUNT WILL be completed by the end of next week," he added.

"There is a possibility that some homes in Palm Springs will be revisited to check on information which was not complete in the first count, but the re-count in Palm Springs will assure us of complete coverage of the community," Miller said.

"THE CREW WE are bringing into Palm Springs on Tuesday or Wednesday is highly experienced and knows its job," he continued, "and although we have to bother some of the people to a limited extent again, we will complete the census."

A similar group was used recently in the enumeration of a homestead area to the north of Palm Springs off Dillon Road, and a corps of 10 census takers concentrated in the eight mile area, and completed it in one day.

Census figures have been completed and announced in almost every area of the Southland, including metropolitan Los Angeles.

Nikita Will Aid Powers See Son

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Tass News Agency said today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev has announced he is ready to help Oliver Powers see his son, U-2 pilot Francis Powers.

Khrushchev said he will help the elder Powers to see his son if he comes to the Soviet Union but he informed the father: "I must tell you that your son will be tried."

REMEMBER THOSE STREET CLEANERS? THEY'LL BE BACK!

How many people in Palm Springs can remember when the city had a man who pushed a little cart along Palm Canyon Drive and cleaned the street?

Well, now after so many years, he will be back on the street—for at least eight months of the year.

Last night the City Council, checking the 1960-61 fiscal budget, was talked into hiring such a man at the insistence of George Beebe, Jr., who said: "We've got to do something about keeping our city clean, especially along the business section of downtown."

The laborer will be hired to push a DCS truck up and down the drive, keeping the street gutters and palm tree wells clean.

Castro Seizes Havana Hilton, Other Hotels

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's government took over the Havana Hilton, the Nacional and several other luxury hotels today in a move apparently aimed at heading off complete collapse of the tourist-starved hotel industry.

Technically, the Hilton, the Nacional and the others were "intervened" on orders from Labor Minister Augusto Martinez Sanchez. This means they are to be run by officials appointed by the government.

Also taken over were the St. John and the residential Rosita de Hornedo Hotels, as well as the swank Tropicana night club and a grocery store operated by Rosita de Hornedo.

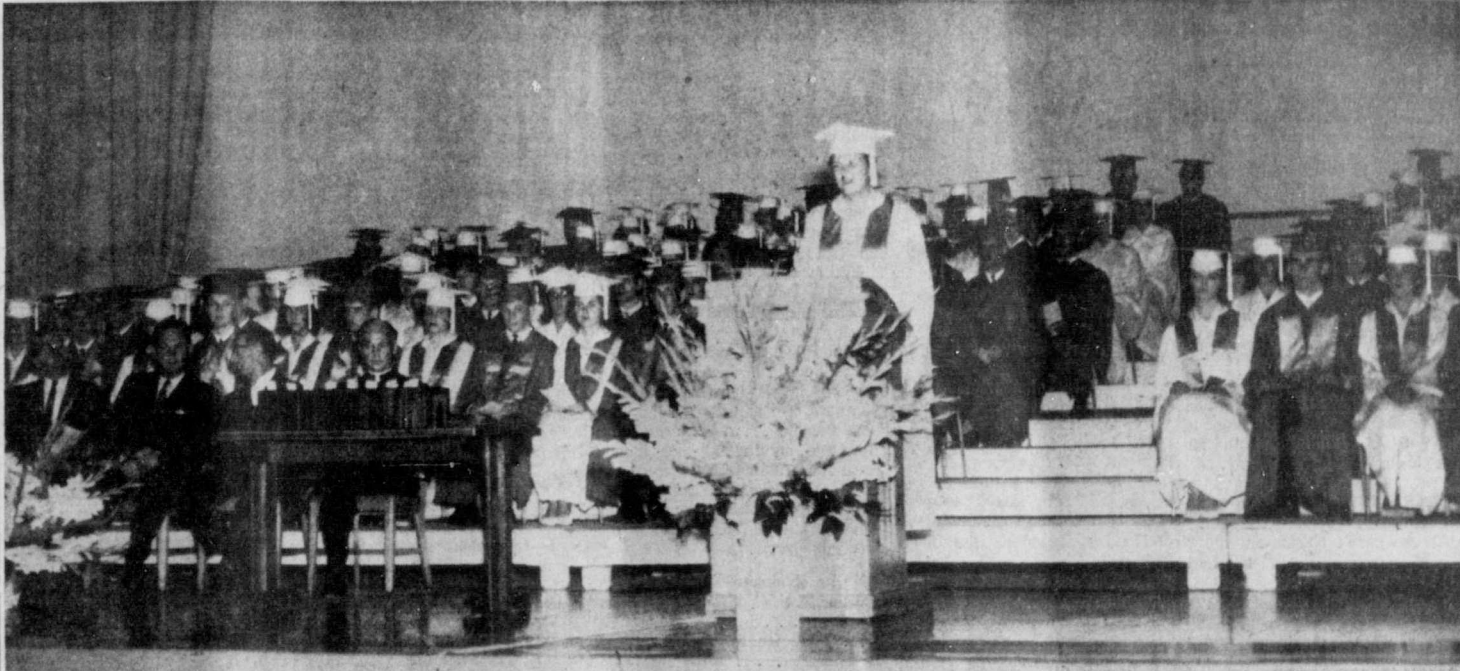

The move means that all leading hostilities here now are under some form of government control.

Castro meanwhile threatened American oil companies in Cuba with confiscation and charged the United States with spying on a Russian ship off the Cuban coast.

Italian Beauty Is Miss Europe

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Italy's Anna Ranalli outdazzled 16 other beauties in the casino here Friday night to become "Miss Europe" in the first contest for the title ever held in a non-European country.

Runners-up included Germany's Helgard Koeckel, Sweden's Monica Abrahamsson, Austria's Luise Kammermayer and France's Brigitte Barazra, at 18 the youngest entry in the competition.

MARY LINDENSTEIN, one of four student speakers in last night's Palm Springs High School Auditorium graduation ceremonies held in the high school's auditorium, tells of "A Need for Ideals" as the hallful of parents and guests listen. Other student speakers included Jo Ann Rosin, who told of "Things I Want to Remember."

PD'S 'FUN FAIR' MAY SET RECORD

PALM DESERT — The Fourth Annual July 4-Fun Fair in this growing Desert community is expected to top last year's heavy attendance which thronged the Shadow Mountain Club for a day of family fun in a carriage-trade setting.

Ezerel Ostler, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Fun Fair committee, reported that approximately 65 displays are expected for the Fair.

LOCATION WILL again be on Shadow Mountain Club grounds, with general hours from 2 to 11 p.m., but with dancing for adults to 1 p.m.

Ostler, who is also president of the Retail Merchants' Association here, announced that an "elaborate, and safe and sane" fireworks display will cap the traditional festivities of the nation's Independence Day. The display will last for 35 to 40 minutes, with Pete Janotta, a professional with 10 years experience, firing the pyrotechnic arrangements.

A MIDWAY, children's games, and dancing for adults will be provided on the Shadow Mountain grounds. In addition, box chicken lunches will be available this year.

At extra cost, the Shadow Mountain swimming pool will be available.

Australian Plane Crash Kills 29

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—The U. S. consul at Brisbane and 28 other persons, including another American, were killed Friday night in the crash of a Trans-Australian Airlines turbo-prop airliner in the Pacific Ocean.

A body was identified as that of J. F. O'Grady, 41, of Lowell, Mass., U.S. consul for Queensland. He had reopened the consulate in Brisbane only 18 months ago.

O'Grady, a veteran of 18 years in the foreign services, leaves a wife and two children.

The second American was identified as Vincent Nicholas Dissen, of Boston.

'Dispute Aids Party,' Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that internal disagreement within the GOP was inevitable, constructive, and makes the party stronger for the 1960 campaign.

Blowing Sand Set For County Probe

Board of Supervisors at its meeting at 10 a.m. Monday, in Riverside Courthouse, will again consider the problem of blowing sands on the highway in the Thousand Palms area.

Thousand Palms Chamber of Commerce has sent a letter to the board requesting erection of snow fences to stop the blowing sands.

OTHER ITEMS of direct interest to Desert area residents will include:

—Letter from Imperial County relating to gathering of ironwood from the desert.

2 Men Injured In 3-Car Crash On Highway 99

INDIO — An errant Good Samaritan who pushed another car Highway 99 near the Highway 195 junction without lights on his own car, fled from the scene of a three car collision which resulted in injuries to two men at approximately 1:08 a. m. today, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Investigating Patrol officers reported that the unknown man, driving a 1948 Dodge, was pushing a car driven by Jesus Medina Torres, Acampo, when a car driven by Marcellus Broomes, 1286 East 20th Street, Los Angeles, hit the rear of the Dodge, which was without lights. Broomes and a passenger in his car, Isaiah Wedlow, 3818 Halldale, Los Angeles, were injured.

Broome received two possible rib fractures, plus cuts and bruises, and Wedlow suffered cuts and bruises, the CHP said.

The gas tank of the Dodge ignited when the car was struck, and traffic was blocked. The unknown man, who reportedly told Torres he did not have a driver's license, disappeared from the scene.

Officers theorized he may have caught a bus which was stopped by the fire and wreck.

Pair Sought for Beating Workers

INDIO — Sheriff's deputies today sought two suspects who attacked two farm workers west of Highway 111, two miles south of the state park at Mecca yesterday morning, beating the men and robbing them of their money, shoes, and a wallet.

CITY COUNCIL DEAF TO CHAMBER PLEAS

City Council last night listened to appeals from civic groups for a budget increase for the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce and then continued its stand on cutting last year's $78,696 appropriation.

Tentatively approved was $74,000, $4,696 less than last year, for the city's advertising and publicity agency.

THE CHAMBER had requested $105,000, to expand its services in line with the growing city, and was supported last night by the Palm Springs Real Estate Board; the Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association, and the Retail Merchants Association, Inc., which sent resolutions on behalf of their organizations to the council.

The council, which previously last week proposed a cut in the chamber budget to $65,000, indicated that two areas were falling short of coming up to the standards that should be held by them — the Chamber's publicity firm and the visitors' bureau.

MAYOR FRANK Bogert proposed that the visitors Bureau should be turned over to the operation of individual hotels, "who do the job anyway."

Councilman Kenneth Kirk told The Desert Sun that he has had "more than 100 calls from people in my district who have asked that I not approve an increase in the chamber budget."

BOGERT POINTED out that

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion apologized to Argentina Friday for any violation of its sovereignty in the capture of Adolf Eichmann but claimed "moral justification" for the act.

Press Aide Off to Alaska To Meet Ike

Japanese Leftists
Still Roam Streets,
Shouting Insults

TOKYO (UPI)—White House Secretary James C. Hagerty refused to say today whether he was satisfied with security arrangements being made here for President Eisenhower's visit June 19.

Just before he left Japan to meet the President in Alaska as more than 100,000 screaming leftists rioted again in the streets of Tokyo, Hagerty was asked if the plans satisfied him. He replied: "I just cannot answer that."

HIS REPLY seemed to indicate some reservations. A White House announcement in Washington at about the same time said the President "certainly" intended to come to Japan despite the left-wing opposition and threatened violence.

Hagerty slipped away from his downtown hotel unobserved while the snake-dancing, yelling demonstrators concentrated their efforts at the U. S. embassy, the Parliament building and the residence of the Prime Minister.

HAGERTY'S PLANE left the West U. S. Air Force base at Tachikawa, 33 miles west of Tokyo, a day after he had been trapped in a Communist-led riot.

"I have finished my business and have gone to meet the President in Anchorage," Hagerty said in a brief statement issued just before his huge Super-Constellation took off.

"As I said Friday, I am leaving aboard the plane I came on to go to Anchorage to meet the President on his arrival there and to accompany him on his trip to the countries in this area," Hagerty said. "I had discussions during the day with the Japanese authorities. I finished my business and have gone to meet the President in Anchorage."

THE PRESIDENT is due in Alaska Sunday for the start of his Far East trip.

In Washington, Associate White House Press Secretary Anne Wheaton said the President "certainly" intends to go ahead with his visit to Japan. But the White House postponed releasing details of the President's itinerary, saying it was not "firmed up" yet. Mrs. Wheaton said it would be issued to newsmen later by Hagerty, perhaps Sunday in Anchorage.

ALSO IN TOKYO, the pilot of the U. S. Marine helicopter which plucked Hagerty and U. S. Ambassador Douglas A. MacArthur II from the hands of violent anti-Ike demonstrators yesterday said he was almost knocked unconscious by a rock thrown by a rioter.

Maj. Don Foss, Sioux Falls, S. D., was at the controls of the helicopter Friday when it rescued Hagerty.

Firemen Quell Building Blaze

A possible spontaneous combustion resulted in an estimated $200 to $500 damage in a 30-minute fire at 8 p.m. Friday, in a residence at 877 Mel Avenue, owned by the Desert Construction Company.

City firemen rolled pumps from stations one and two to the blaze, bringing the fire under control by 8:15 p.m. A fire department spokesman said the room was being redecorated and was unfurnished, except for a rug. The rug and walls were damaged.

PALMBEARERS ARE union official brothers of Mr. Lee. They are Art Jensen, executive secretary of the Riverside-San Bernardino Carpenters District Council at Colton; A. C. Wylie Howard, Pacific Coast representative of the Carpenter International Union.

Interment will be in Desert Memorial Park, with Wiefels and Son Mortuary in charge.

YVONNE SVENNSTROM, 16-year-old traveler from Sweden, was in Palm Springs yesterday to visit the Agua Caliente Indian Reservation. She won the trip by beating all comers on a Swedish TV program—known as "Utmanningen"—which is similar to U.S. quiz shows. On her arrival here she was met by and introduced to Eileen Miguel, chairman of the Agua Caliente Tribal Council, council members Virginia Gonzales and Elizabeth Monk, and Indian Agent Ray Jackson, pictured left to right with her in front of the Palm Springs Spa. She lunched at the Palm Springs Riviera before continuing her visit of Indian reservations in California. She returns to Sweden, via SAS, on June 16. (Desert Sun Photo).

Dear Abby . . . by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a married man for ten years. If his wife hasn't made him happy in the thirty years she has had him, why doesn't she step aside and give someone else a chance? She knows about this affair. If I were in her place I would never stand for it, but she has no pride.

Sometimes the "other woman" in the triangle is right. I believe I am. Why not have TWO happy people instead of THREE unhappy ones? I am tired of the few hours we have to be content with every week.

Print this. It may help the wife see things as they are.

THE OTHER WOMAN

DEAR OTHER WOMAN: There are many reasons why a wife refuses to "step aside and give someone else a chance." First, she has respect for her marriage vows. Then, there could also be children and, finally, there is the ever lasting hope that her husband will wake up and live right! When the flame dies (and it will!) the wife will have a husband in her old age. What will you have besides a guilty conscience and an aged chassid that no man wants?

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how to solve my problem without causing family trouble. I have relatives who call my doctor and ask him questions

AFTER SUN-SET

Visiting Stars Aid Premiere

By GEORGE LAINE

The show is starting to get on the road.

This show, as it happens, is a motion picture titled "The Fall of the House of Usher" and the proceeds from its premiere performance—at the Plaza Theater next Saturday night—are aimed at the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation by way of the Teen Angels, sponsors of the premiere.

TICKETS ARE NOW starting to pick up selling speed and it seems as though the Plaza will probably be a jam-packed hall come 8:30 p. m., one week hence.

That probably goes without saying since all of the 600 buffet tickets have now been disseminated amongst Villagers and their guests. The Riviera itself will probably be almost as jam-packed as the Plaza.

The price on the buffet is a nominal one but the price on the premiere is so extraordinary that it deserves special mention.

FOLKS IN MOST areas — and in this one, too — never blink an eye when someone declares a $10 or $20 or even a $50 price tag on a benefit. (Scalpers at some Hollywood premieres have asked and received as much as $100 for "special" events.)

Yet here is a great premiere for an equally great cause promoted by some great young women and the price is but $2.50. (I can't understand why the thing hasn't been sold out for a week.)

Anyway, about half of the 600 tickets have already been grabbed up by community-conscious, bargain-wise citizens and they'll be tickled to know the next bit of information.

LARRY FINLEY, ONE of the Village's best friends — I've never heard anything but nice words from Larry about our town — will be master of ceremonies and he's liable to have his hands full.

He'll have to introduce—as of this moment—such personages as Pat O'Brien and Debbie Reynolds, Frankie Laine and Robert Stack, Edd "Kookie" Byrnes and Hugh O'Brien and — wait'll I get the rest of the list.

Also scheduled to arrive here—in two big buses and numerous other vehicles—are Jack Mahoney, Molly Bee, Paul Anka, Connie Stevens, Mona Freeman, Cindy Robbins, Sandra Dee, Louis Prima and Keely Smith and Susan Kohner.

A little apprehensively, I thought, the announcement was edged forward that even lil' ole Tuesday Weld might attend.

OF COURSE, MARK Damon — who got the thing started when he asked the brass at American International to premiere the Poe thriller in our town — will be on hand and so will Myrna Fahey, who is also featured in the pic.

There is a good chance — but not a positive one — that Vincent Price, who is the star of the film and who was a spectacular addition to our Community Forum lecturer lists this season, could also be on hand. (It all rests, as I understand it, with whether or not he is required to fulfill a scheduled speaking engagement in the Los Angeles area.)

At any rate, the billing on the "sideshow" phase of the premiere is starting to pick up steam. At the rate we've been going since the "season ended," the town may gain a reputation for providing more excitement in its off-season than in its on-season.

NOTES OFF THE CUFF: See you at Hilltop tonight? Or the Biltmore? Or where?

Tonight's last time for the Beachcomber this season... Jump by, say hello to Pat and Eddie and tell 'em I sent you... (Then give an alibi for me)...

Ray Anthony and Band — plus the Modernaires and Freddie Bell and the Belibays are getting raves from Villagers who have attended the Sahara Hotel in Vegas of recent date...

IF YOU THINK YOU'VE got troubles, get a load of pretty Myrna Fahey, in the clutch of nasty old Vincent Price. Mark Damon, right, figures to get her out of this one sometime before the end of the last reel for "House of Usher," filmed recap of Edgar Allan Poe's famous thriller which will be premiered at 8:30 p.m., June 18, in the Plaza Theater here. Proceeds go to the Teen Angels for the benefit of Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation. (American International Photo).

HILLTOP ROOM mariachis Raoul and Gustavo, right and left, tune up the welcome melodies on Hilltop hostess Alyce Zeman in preparation for tomorrow night's big "Viva La Fiesta" session. The two mariachis are usually joined by other noted Latin performers for the Saturday night specialty in which Mexican dinners are the piece d'resistance. (Desert Sun Photo).

And if the Telephone Rang?

WASHINGTON AP — Backstairs at the White House: The night that President Eisenhower broadcast his report to the nation on the Paris Big Four Conference, there was some audible snickering in a corner of the chief executive's office shortly before he was to go on the air.

ROBERT MONTGOMERY, who oversees the President's appearances on television, came bustling over to quiet the mirth. What had happened was this:

A group of reporters and TV technicians were gossiping and one man noted that the President's desk was bare of any props except two telephones. "Can't you just imagine," said the man, "what would happen if the telephone rang during the President's speech. He'd stop talking and pick up the phone. Then he'd say, 'hello... Nikita? ... Nikita who?'"

A WASHINGTONIAN who drops in at the White House frequently stopped by the other day to leave this simple election year parlor game. Name an American President who saw active duty as an officer or enlisted man in the Navy.

It turns out that this is a loaded game designed to question the chances of either vice president Richard M. Nixon or Sen. John F. Kennedy becoming President. Nixon and Kennedy both served in the Navy.

The answer of course, is that no Navy man ever became President. Thirteen Presidents had earlier Army careers, but no Navy men made it to the White House.

THESE ARE glamorous days around the White House. Walter Winchell swept in from Broadway the other afternoon, doled out perfume and lipstick to all the girls, and left the prettier stenographers gasping as he assured them they ought to be in pictures.

And Elaine Sheppard, the actress-turned-writer, is in town to give a way-out swinging party Wednesday night as sort of a going-away affair for the President's trip to the Far East.

She's invited a lot of White House people to join her in a hotel ballroom where she has ordered a large swimming pool built just for the occasion. She'll furnish Gay Nineties bathing suits for the guests, there'll be a jazz band and somehow the people are supposed to swing to the melodic strains of "Rampart Street Parade."

FEW PEOPLE ever see a highly important aspect of preparing for a presidential trip and that is collecting the gifts Eisenhower will bestow on presidents, potentates, emperors and generalissimo along his Far Eastern route.

By the time he takes off Sunday for Japan and intermediate points, the President's staff will have assembled quite a handsome collection of distinctly American presents. The gifts must be packed with extra care in large plywood shipping containers, carefully marked for each country.

For the ranking dignitaries of the Philippines, Nationalist China, Japan and Korea there probably will be an assortment of beautiful American crystal, American fountain pens, electric shavers and electric mixers, are quite valued gifts overseas and the President has distributed some of these on past trips.—Merriman Smith.

Another Speculation Item

NEW YORK — Since everybody's guessing about the cause of Khrushchev's recent lid-blowing — and, believe me, they are guessing — it seems permissible to add another item to the speculation chart. So here goes:

Khrushchev is just plain sore at Mr. Eisenhower. His rage generates from a feeling that Ike, considered a good friend, made him look like a boob before the eyes of the world and — worse — the eyes of his meagre "opposition" in the Party and the Red Military.

HE WAS SO sure about his personal analysis of the President that he proclaimed him as a man of peace in Russia and even in Red China, after the visit to Washington. He was still sure enough after the U-2 was downed to give him two or three clear chances to avoid taking personal responsibility for such flights. It enraged him further when he spurned those loopholes with noble resolution. In K's mind, Ike was snubbing him, exposing the Kremlin boss as a fellow who couldn't protect the Soviet people from intruders, revealing him as a deplorably bad judge of character and attitude, and hardly a fitting successor to Stalin, the up-pulling but still revered titan whose image he tried to demolish.

And so, like a spurned lover, he aggressively substitutes vinegar for what was once a reasonable facsimile of honey.

in the annual Golf Tournament played by members of the British set in Cuba. He won with a 63 net.

The presentation was made at the British Club Tuesday night at a party honoring Scott. The week before, as he was about to depart Havana for a short trip to Miami, Scott was ordered from the plane, interrogated by the bearded ones, and tossed into prison.

For four days he shared a reeking cell, 19 by 20 feet, bulging with 19 other prisoners — mostly young doctors, lawyers, educators. They called on Scott (a New Zealander, by the way) to sing the "Star Spangled Banner." He stumbled after a few lines, but came up with a stirring total-recall compromise: "The Halls of Montezuma." Fellow prisoners bravely called for many reprises, and joined in lustily on the line "... Streets are guarded by United States Marines."

THE STEVENSON - for - President movement suffered a slight setback the other day. One of the ablest Stevenson workers, the 14 year old daughter of Al Hirschfeld, the renowned caricaturist, brandished a petition in the face of a neighbor named Slocum — who is so opposed to signing anything that he regards Button Cwinnett and Charles Carroll of Carrollton as threats to domestic tranquility.

"Sign this Stephenson - for - President petition," Miss Hirschfeld stated, flatly.

"NO," said her neighbor. He was about to enumerate some of his reasons — chiefly the one about abstaining from signing declarations.

"Well! Why won't you?" the girl shouted. It almost swung our man, but he recovered in time. Still feels Miss Hirschfeld won't forgive him, however.

ALL OF WHICH reminds us of another dear little partisan, the daughter in this case of two feverishly confident "Dewey Workers," back in the 1948 campaign. The child returned to the family apartment in the Waldorf from her swank school one day and shouted, "Mummy and Daddy I have wonderful news for you." We took a poll in our school bus today and Governor Dewey won 19-to-1.

"Good girl," father boomed. "Good for your girl friends."

"And might I ask who voted for Truman?" he asked heavily. "The driver," the little girl said.

INEVITABLY, SINCE recent attacks on the President by Khrushchev have gone beyond all known bounds of the past, millions of Americans have wondered how by - gone Presidents would have reacted. Many feel that President Truman would have reached over that conference table at Paris, after the first blast, grabbed Khrushchev by the lapels and belted him one. They are not quite sure where that would have left us, however.

One presumes that Andrew Jackson would have sent his second instant to arrange for the shoot at 30 paces, Washington? Lincoln? Wilson? The Roosevelt? Fascinating speculation for the historian, but, as in all such cases, as implausible as (at 2:30 a.m.) about the outcome of a Dempsey - Louis fight.

This Side of The Sun By Phat

You know what is coming
You can tell by the ads,
A week from tomorrow
It's the day for the dads.

Anna Jarvis, who first thought up Mothers Day, annually the second Sunday in May, died regretting her idea.

She wanted all mothers, living and departed, honored but in a reverent way. She went into retirement bemoaning the commercialism of the day.

NOW, I DON'T KNOW who invented Fathers' Day. None of my reference works seems sufficiently concerned. I guess it was just an afterthought.

If we have mothers, we must have fathers. They go together like ham and eggs or, in some cases, like cucumbers and ice cream.

Anyway, the advertisements in the newspapers, the magazines and over the air, keep harping on the subject, a week from tomorrow, June 19, the Old Man is King for a Day.

WHOEVER FIRST had the idea for Dads' Day, was probably a practical man. Perhaps he was an adman. So he wouldn't worry about commercializing the day.

But the ads urge you to remember him, if he's an outdoor man, with vari-colored sport shirts, golf balls, fishing tackle, telescopic gun sights, skin-diver equipment, gadgets for the automobile, anything that will keep him out of the house.

IF HE'S A dual-purpose man, there are socks, neckties, tie clasps, other jewelry, shorts, key containers and windproof cigarette lighters, good indoors and outdoors.

If he's strictly a home body there are lighters, again, poker chips, cocktail shakers, jiggers, handy home bar equipment and, if he can read and write, pens, pencils and books.

But all of them, outdoor, combination or indoors, will get the same thing. Those window envelopes on July 1.

THE OTHER DAY I mentioned a new invention, ideal for a Father's Day gift—a new ball point pen which carries a roll of paper in the barrel. So that you don't have to use backs of envelopes or paper napkins in making notes.

I have one. Great for taking notes at the phone, messages for Mrs. G which I might forget before she gets home, where I have to be at 2:30, that tip on the fifth at Hollypark.

BUT I WAS too verbose that day and the boys in the composing room chopped me down before I had finished.

I was going to say it served a dual purpose—it eliminated the frantic search for something to write on and to write with. And that the paper was also good to clean eye glasses.

Only two drawbacks. You might forget to take it to the phone with you and (b) maybe you couldn't read what you wrote.

DICK WEST:

Battle Not Over

WASHINGTON AP — Any one who thinks the battle of the sexes ended with the ratification of the 19th Amendment is guilty of creeping ostrichism.

I raised my own head out of the sand the other day when I heard a roundelay of blood-curdling war whoops emanating from the Women's Press Club here.

DON'T ASK how I could hear something with my head in the sand. You mind your metaphors and I'll tend to mine.

War whoops emanating from the Women's Press Club could only mean one thing—another uprising by our lady journalists. It was a chilling sound to peace-loving newspapermen, who thought they had reached a "detente" with the opposite sex.

NOT WISHING to be victims of another Pearl Harbor, the men quickly acquired a U-2, which the government for some reason had declared surplus.

An overflight produced intelligence indicating that the women were preparing to storm the bastions of the National Press Club, which is the last stronghold of male journalists in the capital.

I SHOULD explain here that the club's policy of excluding women has long been a source of contention in the local press corps. Female journalists have made repeated efforts to break down the bars, claiming they were entitled to professional equality.

There is a strong male suspicion, however, that the real reason they want to break down the bars is to get into the club bar.

At one point, the women went off and formed their own club, but they have never been content with segregation. Now they are on the warpath again and the town is teeming with ink-stained Susan B. Anthonys.

THIS TIME they are attacking the tradition under which foreign bigwigs who come here on state visits make an appearance before the National Press Club.

Women correspondents contend that they have a vested, or at least a sweated, right to cover such proceedings, even though they are not members of the club.

CLUB OFFICIALS, on the other hand, insist that a private men's organization has no obligation to admit outsiders to any of its functions. However, they have relented to the point of permitting lady journalists to sit in the balcony.

I naively asked one lady journalist why she objected to this arrangement, which struck me as being a reasonable compromise, I was lucky that she didn't stike me, too.

HER GROUP is vigorously lobbying for a new arrangement under which the press appearances of visiting dignitaries would be handled by some co-ed news organization.

I have a hunch that the male ramparts might crumble before this assault. At any rate, it will be hard to resist some of those women work on the theory that the way to gather news is to rake it up with their fingernails.

A Whooping Offer

HOLLYWOOD — Elvis Presley has a whooping good TV offer — $500,000 for a two-shot deal. But he won't take it. The offer also stipulates Elvis must do a year's worth of TV blurbs — that's the hitch. It may sound like a lot of money to turn down, but consider this: of the $125,000 Elvis got from the Sinatra spec, his take-home was $25,000. Or 20 cents on the dollar. Uncle Sam got the rest.

Maybe there's a new career for Charles Chaplin, Jr. As a result of the book he collaborated, Junior already has four network TV shows booked.

FROM AD AGENCY man, Christy Walsh, we get another story on the TV trend for the coming year. He says, "We're more interested in action-adventure than any other film form." And this is based on his viewing of 160 pilots!

We like that tag line of our favorite TV newscaster: "That's all the news — and you know it!"

G.E. Theatre is talking to Harry Belafonte about his starring in the TV version of "Emperor Jones" as one of their six-hour-long specs next fall.

MAYBE DENNIS (Gunsmoke) Weaver was just bargaining for better pay on Gunsmoke when he said he wouldn't sign a new contract beyond December. But as sometimes happens, Dennis got a flock of offers that makes it look like he wouldn't sign at any price. Three offers of his own series, two movie deals, or a Broadway play — he can take his pick!

A new type of career is also in store for Gogi Grant. After she finishes strawhutting "Showboat" and "Kiss Me Kate," Gogi's wanted for the Broadway production of the musical, "Words and Music."

EARL HOLLIMAN is very happy he took a flyer at a TV spec in London. As a result, he meets in Rome re the movie, "Love on the North Sea" for Dino de Laurentiis as Ernie Borginone's son.

Shelly Berman may well do for trains what he did for planes in his comic routines. He's now train traveling between engagements. Shelley got a plane scare.

Contemplating a movie career? There are a lot of young actresses who feel VERY tired after a day at the studios. They should have all had a look at veteran Lillian (Birth of a Nation) Gish after she finished a 22-hour stretch crisp as lettuce doing "The Grass Harp" for the Play of the Week.

FOUR STAR IS offering a Western series to Jacques Bergerac. When he mentioned his accent, they said, "Don't worry, we'll place it down near El Paso or close to the border where every other guy has one!"

George Burns wants to know if you've heard about the henpecked husband who got a divorce from his wife three months ago ... and still hasn't the guts to tell her!

Darren McGavin is hoping he can work out of his Riverboat series long enough somehow to do Tennessee Williams' Broadway play, "Period of Adjustment." Either Darren has rocks in his head or the play is good for a fast week on the boards!

DICK CRENNAN now has two running parts on TV. In addition to The Real McCoys he has become the new voice of "Waldo" to Jim Backus' "Magoo." Dominick (Adventures in Paradise) Dunne's exit from the TV lots at the Fox studios is only the beginning. There are more producers looking for their running shoes.

Choreographer Nick Castle, who taught Frankie Avalon his nitery act, says, "Avalon learned more in three weeks than I did in 18 years. The kid's a natural — he hoofs like a hooter making a living at it!"

OPPS! CANTERBURY, England AP —Attacking a 1934 road traffic act in a speeding case, the defense lawyer declared: "You never see a 1934 car —they're antiquies."

AGAINST SIN HOLLYWOOD AP —Edouard L. Cournand, president of Lanvin Perfumes, has purchased television advertising spots for both the Democratic and Republican national conventions.

Cournand said today he planned to advertise "Arpege" during one convention and "Sly Sin" during the other but that neither party wanted the "My Sin" commercials.

WHALE OF A SCENT JARROW, England AP — Striking dockers won the right to take a special bus to piers after they complained that unloading a whaling ship caused them embarrassment on regular buses when fellow passengers would hold their noses.

NO PEANUTS EIGHTER LONDON AP —An American tourist who identified himself only as "Jones—Cleveland, Ohio" complained that his travel agent had done him wrong.

Jones came to London's famous Piccadilly Circus fully expecting to find clowns and live animal acts.

"Some nerve they've got," he complained, "naming an ordinary square a circus."

PUZZLED BY PUPS DALLAS AP —Glenn M. Hargrove advertised mongrel puppies for sale and got a call from a woman who wanted to know "what are they like?"

"I'm not familiar with that breed," she said.

Guests dined by candlelight at tables with red roses as centerpieces ... with an orchestra playing for dancing ... The Dick Rands, Bonita and Jack Wreather and the Paul Helms Jr. were in the crowd of 250 ...

A pleasant "thank you" gesture on behalf of City of Hope ... was the little luncheon which Rose Walders hosted for me at Howard Manor ... with publicity chairman Mrs. Gene Burton there to help take the bows ... Fae Epstein (City of Hope's president) closed her store to join the party ... and Bessie Matloff was there ... Bessie isn't old enough for me to tell you that she was in early day movies ... so I'd better qualify it by adding that she was the cute little freckle-faced red head in Our Gang comedies ...

Look Out! Here Is That Diamond Again

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Look out! Here comes that "Richard Diamond" TV series again — the fourth time it's been brought back from the dead.

Like a revolving door, the detective thriller has been in and out of video favor to the confusion of viewers, networks, producers and stars.

THE SHOW IS something like a medium-good juggler act was to oldtime vaudeville. Whenever one of the acts failed to show, the theater owner would throw in the local juggler to fill the bill. So it is with "Diamond." When the high-priced, ballyhooed series are canceled they call for the detective.

Most confused by the on-again-off-again program is David Janssen, who stars in the title role.

"THE CONFUSION will be all over this summer," he said with relief. "We have 13 new segments already filmed for vacation fill-in, beginning June 4. After that 'Richard Diamond' will close shop for good."

"There will be reruns in the future, but no more new shows," Janssen regards the final, conclusive, ultimate end of "Diamond" with mixed emotions.

HE IS GLAD TO see the private eye go, and is grateful that the character swept him from obscurity to TV stardom — and now movie fame.

Thanks to the dapper detective

Janssen has come up with starring roles in two new feature pictures, "Hell to Eternity" and "Dondi."

"I've been in Hollywood 21 years," he said, "working since the time I was 10 years old. During all these years I played only bit parts with four or five lines of dialogue."

"MY FIRST picture was 'Swampfire' with two ex-Tarzans, Johnny Weissmuller and Buster Crabbe. I'd probably still be playing bit parts if it hadn't been for the TV series."

"By the same token, the show interfered with my landing other jobs. Because we never knew whether the show was on the air, canceled or merely taking a vacation, I could not accept outside work. For about six months I had no income at all."

DAVE BELIEVES his old role filled its purpose, propelling him to stardom and entertaining a few million televisioners.

"Diamond can't help me attain my ultimate goal in life, which is to become as rich as possible," Janssen concluded.

Davis to Guest On 'Town Hall'

Rufe Davis, known as Hollywood's most fashionable hillbilly, brings his celebrated pantomime comedy to KTTV's "Town Hall Party," when he will make a special guest appearance, Saturday, June 11, 10 p.m., Channel Eleven.

Sean O'Casey's Play, 'Juno and Paycock' Set

Irish dramatist Sean O'Casey's most famous play, "Juno and the Paycock," is KCOP's (Channel 13) "The Play of The Week" presentation, Thursday, June 15, at 8 p.m.

Starring in this exceptional drama dealing with modern Irish city life are Hume Cronyn as "Captain" Jack Boyle and Walter Matthau as Joxer Daly. Pauline Flanagan is seen as Juno Boyle.

SUCCESSFULLY produced in England, Ireland and the United States, "Juno and the Paycock" is a story of the revolt against poverty and authority in the troubled Ireland of the early 1920's. It is the compelling story of a mother's struggle to keep her rebellious family together in the face of imminent disintegration.

The Boyles are a poor family living in a Dublin tenement, Juno, so named because she was born in June, is the suffering and eternally hopeful wife and mother. Her husband, Jack Boyle (Hume Cronyn) is the self-satisfied strutter — the "Paycock." Tragedy engulfs the family via son Joxer's serious injury during the Easter rebellion and inevitably, his execution as a traitor; a short-lived inheritance celebration, and daughter, Mary's romantic entanglements.

DESPISE THESE incidents, Juno manages to keep the family together while setting new sights. In spite of all these dramatic overtones, the play also has many light moments.

"Juno And The Paycock" is produced by Henry Weinstein. Directing are Paul Shyre (staging) and James Elson (camera). David Susskind is the executive producer.

Men Without Country Set on 'Camera Three'

"Forbidden to Land"—the story of the thousands of uncounted men who roam the seas of the world as virtual prisoners on the ships they sail, will be presented on "Camera Three" Sunday, June 12 (CBS Television Network, 9:30-9:55 a.m., p.d.t.).

In an original drama by Joseph Hurley, "Camera Three" examines the predicament of these refugee seamen who have become men without countries due to political exile and changing governments. Portraying the seamen will be Michael Shilo, Albert Paulson and William Kerwin.

Program host James MacAndrew discusses the refugee problem with Jean Gorman, assistant to the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees. The problem is especially timely because June marks the end of World Refugee Year, a year set aside to aid refugees throughout the world.

"Camera Three" is a WCBS-TV (New York) Public Affairs Department series presented in cooperation with the New York State Education Department. The producer is John McGiffert; John Desmond directs.

With Transi-Talkies

Newsman to Get The Inside Story

At national political conventions, the big news doesn't always break at the convention rostrum. Sometimes the biggest stories of all break in a crowded aisle, or in the "backstage" areas of the convention.

"To get that kind of story, CBS News reaches out from its nerve center at the central news desk in the convention hall with special new walkie-talkies, which we call 'transi-talkies,'" says Sam Zelman, the man who will coordinate that operation at both conventions.

"WITH THESE back-pack transmitters," he says, "our correspondents become walking broadcast stations that can go anywhere in the vast arenas. On a simple cue, the desk can zoom down on them with any one of 22 cameras, including roving back-pack cameras.

With the walkie-talkies, CBS News scored an off-beat beat at the Republican National Convention in 1956. When Terry Carpenter, delegate from Nebraska, tried to nominate Joe Smith for Vice President, CBS Newsman Bill Leonard tracked him down and got an interview on the spot.

"WITHOUT THE walkie-talkie," says Zelman, "it would have been almost impossible to find Carpenter, fight through the mob on the convention floor, and complete the interview while it was still newsworthy."

The walkie-talkie Leonard carried was a bulky beast. It was heavy and its batteries kept running down.

At the 1960 conventions the seven CBS News walk-and-talk reporters will carry transistorized transmitters that weigh a mere five pounds. Their power has been increased four-fold, and their batteries will last much longer.

"OUR CORRESPONDENTS will be able to move in for intimate closeups that add color and excitement to our straight documentation of the conventions," says Zelman.

CBS News will have four walkie-talkies on the floor at all times. They will be able to broadcast for radio or television, or both simultaneously, if necessary.

The seven correspondents who have been named to man the portable transmitters are Charles Collingwood, Douglas Edwards, Nancy Hanchman, Richard C. Holte, Alexander Kendrick, Charles Kuralt and Bill Leonard. By rotating assignments, no one correspondent will have to remain on the crowded floor too long.

WHAT HAPPENS when a correspondent calls in with a story from the leader of a delegation or a statement from a candidate?

The call is forwarded to Zelman at the central news desk for a spot evaluation of its importance.

"Depending on the value of the story and the importance of what else is going on," Zelman says, "there are five things we can do with a story."

"ONE, WE CAN break in on our coverage to report the story on both radio and television. Or we can broadcast it on television alone. Or we can broadcast it on radio alone. Or we can put the story on tape for later broadcast."

"Finally, we can tell the correspondent to forget the whole thing. Sometimes it's tough deciding which of the five things to do under the pressure of a 10-second deadline."

"It's a satisfying thought," adds Zelman, "knowing that our editors on the central news desk can reach out across the milling mob on the floor and pick up instantly at close range the most important man in the hall at that very moment."

Vaudeville Revival Set For Sunday

Days of Honky-Tonk Piano, Buck-and-Wing To Be Presented

The glorious days of the buck-and-wing and the honky-tonk piano will be revived on a special presentation by "The American Musical Theatre" devoted to vaudeville and the music of George M. Cohan, Sunday, June 12, (1:30 to 2 p.m.) on KNXT, Channel 2.

Banjoist John Cali will open the proceedings with rousing renditions of "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" and "Hello, My Baby."

TWO PROVOCATIVELY titled numbers — "Throw Him Down, McCloskey" and "Take Back Your Gold" — sung by guest Betty Rhodes will be followed by an animated ragtime piano interpretation by Mike Calichio of Rubenstein's "Melody in F."

Sporting the traditional derby and cane of the song-and-dance man, Don Luberto will perform "Sweet Rosie O'Grady," after which he will demonstrate the intricacies of the buck-and-wing, the soft-shoe shuffle and the cake walk.

AMONG THE familiar melodies of the colorful George M. Cohan will be "Yankee Doodle Boy," "45 Minutes from Broadway," "Mary Is a Grand Old Name," "You're a Grand Old Flag," "The Harrigan Song" and "Over There." Ned Cramer is executive producer of the award-winning series which is presented by WCBS-TV, New York, in cooperation with the Board of Education of the City of New York. Martin Carr is the director, and Ethel Burns is associate producer for the Board of Education. The CBS Orchestra is under guest conductor Ray Bloch.

Story of X-15 To Be Told on 'Century' Show

An on-the-spot report on the X-15 rocket plane, which will take the first man into space and back in the near future, will be rebroadcast Sunday, June 12, 6:30-7 p.m. on the CBS Television Network when "The Twentieth Century" series presents "Mission: Outer Space." Walker Cronkite is the narrator.

Interviewed on the program are the three veteran pilots who have been flight-testing the remarkable rocket plane. One of them, Air Force Capt. Robert White, only last week flew the X-15 to a height of 102,000 feet.

"Mission: Outer Space," filmed on location on the West Coast, unveils the "Missile with wings," tells the story of the men who conceived it, and traces the drawing board to the traces of the program also tells what is expected to happen when the X-15 first zooms out of the earth's atmosphere.

Chinese Painter Focuses on Art 4,000 Years Old

Gin Poh Y. King, Chinese university professor lecturing in America on a Fulbright scholarship, demonstrates the 4,000-year-old art of Chinese painting on the "Montage" presentation of "The Chinese Painter," Sunday, June 12, (11 to 11:30 a.m.) on KNXT, Channel 2.

PEARL BUCK SET ON READING SHOW

Distinguished Nobel Prize winning author Pearl Buck will be seen during KTVB's "Reading Out Loud" program, when she reads some of her own favorite Chinese fables to a group of children, Sunday, June 12, 6:30 p.m., Channel Eleven.

In 1953, Pearl Buck received the Nobel Prize for Literature—the first American woman to be so honored. The award was made not for one book as is sometimes mistakenly said, but for the body of her work, which included such biographies as "The Exile," and "Fighting Angel."

PEARL BUCK HOLDS numerous degrees and awards for her numerous books, magazine articles, and juvenile fiction. In addition to a Yale degree, she holds the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters from the University of Virginia. St. Lawrence University gave her degree of Doctor of Letters.

Timmy, Lassie Foil Robbery

Timmy and Lassie discover a plot to rob the dairy cooperative and when both the newspaper editor and the sheriff disbelieve them the boy and the dog set out to foil the robbery themselves on "Lassie" Sunday, June 12 (CBS Television Network, 7-7:30 p.m.). (This is a rebroadcast.)

Lassie, Jon Provost, June Lockhart and Hugh Reilly are starred as Lassie, Timmy, Ruth and Paul Martin. The cast includes Tyler McVey as Ray Vance, Ben Morris as Joe Link.

Jack's system for playing the horses is argued by a tout, played by Sheldon Leonard, and Dennis Jack, in turn, convinces his sponsor, played by Pierre Watkins, to change his bet. Jack winds up as winner — and loser — after an uncharacteristic day of spending.

Battle Between Ship, Sub Shown

"Seantette vs. U-Boat," the stirring true story of the USS Seantette and her famous duel of wits and nerves with a German submarine traveling the Pacific on her way to Japan, is featured on "Silent Service," Saturday, June 11, 7 p.m., KCOP, Channel 13.

"I saw Ed in Europe last summer and told him I was keeping his chair warm. And he said, 'Oh, heck, I'm busy. You keep on with it.'"

"But Ed's the kind of a fellow who's always got to be doing something. That's why he kept the 'Small World' show."

COLLINGWOOD a former United Press newsman, admitted he was a little "nettled" early in the season "because there was a lot of criticism that I was doing an imitation of Murrow."

But, he said, "I think that's finished now. The problem with 'Person to Person' is that it operates in a rather restricted physical sense. There's a man in a chair by a window interviewing people in their homes."

"WELL, ED had been sitting in that chair by that window for six years, and anybody who sat in the same chair by the same window was naturally going to be somewhat similar — if only as a result of physical surroundings."

Collingwood explained why he rarely asks controversial questions of the persons he interviews:

"WHEN ED AND I worked out our approach, our instinct as reporters was to dig out as much information about these people as we could."

"But we decided that 'Person to Person' was something else again. The host is not a reporter digging for information — but is in the position of a visitor to a home. He is interested in the private, not public, personality of a well-known figure — how he lives, what his day is like, what he has thought enough of to collect and keep."

"BUT I ADMIT, at the beginning my instinct was to move in on these people and say, 'What's the story I read about you concerning so-and-so?'"

Probably the most embarrassing situation to confront Collingwood as host was his interview with ex-President Herbert Hoover.

"WE TRAVELED to the Florida Keys to visit him," the newsman said, "and the entire session was to take about half a day. But absolutely everything went wrong with our technical equipment, and it took two days. We felt terrible because it was such an imposition on Mr. Hoover, who, after all, is 86 and was on a well-earned vacation."

"But he put us at ease with one comment. He said, 'You know, Mr. Collingwood, I have been an engineer too, and I realize that sometimes pieces of machinery just don't work at all.'"

"I saw Ed in Europe last summer and told him I was keeping his chair warm. And he said, 'Oh, heck, I'm busy. You keep on with it.'"

"But Ed's the kind of a fellow who's always got to be doing something. That's why he kept the 'Small World' show."

Mantle Blasts Put Yanks Back In Win Column

By United Press International
Mickey Mantle is hitting like the "bomber" of old and it's no coincidence that the New York Yankees are beginning to look like the champs of old.

Nothing makes the Yankees look better than when Mantle is on a "tear" and the super slugger is on one now with six homers this month and 11 hits in his last 21 at bats for a .524 average.

IT ALL ADDS UP to bad news for American League rivals who realize that a "hot" Mantle is the one thing that can turn the American League race into a Yankee cake-walk.

Sugar Ray Loses 2nd Split Nod

BOSTON (UPI)—Co-middleweight champion Paul Pender, who clubbed the fading Sugar Ray Robinson into submission in the clinches again Friday night, sought a shot at the light heavyweight crown today instead of a title-clearing fight in his own 160-pound division.

Rangy, dark-haired Pender of Brookline, Mass.—who is recognized as middleweight champion in Massachusetts, New York and most foreign countries—challenged ancient Archie Moore for a crack at his light heavyweight (175-pound) title.

THE FORMER Brookline fireman, who won another split 15-round decision over New Yorker Robinson in their return title fight at the Boston Garden, said, "I'm not interested right now in a title fight with Gene Fullmer."

PENDER, who weighed 160 pounds—exactly the middleweight limit—against Robinson's 156½, Friday night, stressed that he could come into the ring at an effective 169 pounds for a fight with 44-year-old Moore of San Diego, Calif.

SUGAR RAY WANTS PENDER AGAIN—BUT IN NEW YORK
